NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

KEITH BAIN ELECTED SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY

Members of the legislative assembly elected Keith Bain as Speaker of the House of Assembly, Sept. 24, during a special sitting.

Mr. Bain was first elected to the House of Assembly as MLA for Victoria-The Lakes in 2006 and re-elected in 2009, 2017 and 2021. He also served as deputy Speaker during the last general assembly.

The house also passed a motion appointing Angela Simmonds, MLA for Preston, and Lisa Lachance, MLA for Halifax Citadel-Sable Island, as deputy Speakers. Both were first elected in 2021.

The Speaker presides over the legislative assembly, maintaining order and regulating debate in accordance with House rules and practices.

The Speaker decides questions of order, rules on questions, ensures that all viewpoints are heard, protects the rights of all members and casts the deciding vote in the event of a tie.

About the CIBC Run for the Cure

In 1992, a small group of volunteers began a movement in Toronto's High Park. That day they brought together 1,500 people to raise awareness and $85,000 for breast cancer. This marked the beginning of what was to become Canada's largest single day, volunteer-led event in support of the breast cancer cause, the CIBC Run for the Cure. Today, the event has tens of thousands of participants and raises millions of dollars annually.

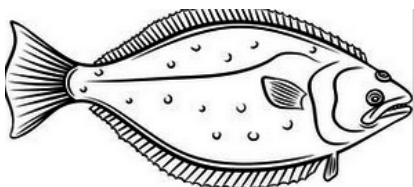

In 1997, the trailblazing partnership between the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation (CBCF) and CIBC began. On February 1, 2017, CBCF and the Canadian Cancer Society (CCS) joined forces under the CCS banner. Together, CCS, CIBC and thousands of dedicated Canadians continue to raise vital funds for breast cancer through this signature event. We are grateful to CIBC, their employees and clients for their longstanding support, and to the countless volunteers, participants and donors that are helping to change the future of breast cancer.

This event unites an incredible collective of Canadians who are a force-for-life in the face of breast cancer and want to show their support. It's an inspirational day that raises significant funds for CCS, the largest charitable funder of breast cancer research in Canada. CCS invests these dollars into ground breaking breast cancer research, compassionate support services, trusted cancer information and advocacy on behalf of all Canadians. It's because of the funds Canadians raise through the CIBC Run for the Cure that we know more than ever before about how to prevent, diagnose, treat and live with and beyond breast cancer.

As breast cancer continues to be the most commonly diagnosed cancer among Canadian women, touching the lives of so many families every day, the CIBC Run for the Cure gives families, friends and supporters the opportunity to join together to honour and celebrate their loved ones, and make a real difference.

Sydney Mines & District Little League Championship Baseball Final Game

Last Thursday evening, my wife and I attended the Little League Championship Game at the Nicole Meaney Ball Field in Sydney Mines.

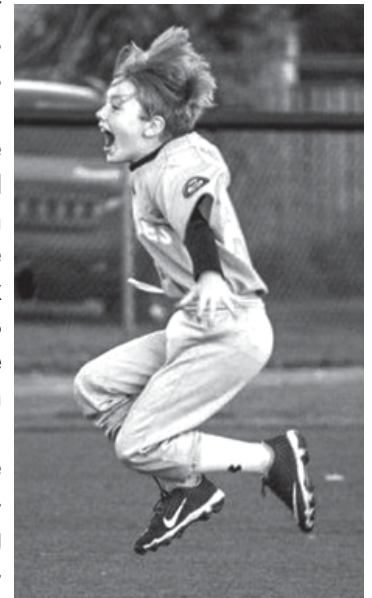

It brought back memories of my own little league experience in Sydney many moons ago. One big difference was the field. We often had to show up early to games and pick the rocks off the field in order to play ball.

This field was artificial turf that would rival Yankee Stadium with its well defined playing areas and safety for all players. Other features that we never had at any of our games was the announcing of names, scores and innings and the canteen with hot dogs and french fries.

But I quickly followed the hitting, fielding, running and comradery of the players on the fields for both teams. The Yankess and The Red Sox were playing the deciding 3 game final and the Yankee team came out on top to win the championship title.

It was gratifying to see the many families with their children attending and cheering on the players. One big difference from my playing days was the inclusion of girls playing. I remembered that the best player in our Ashby group of kids was a 12 year old girl who could out hit, out run and out play any of the boys on the various teams.

The Sydney Mines community should be congratulated for the hard work and leadership necessary to keep this vibrant sport alive. Thank you to all coaches, parents, volunteers and dedicated workers who make baseball possible for the youth. You all deserve a lot of credit.

Background For The Reconciliation Holiday

For the first time, Sept. 30 will mark the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation.

In June, Ottawa declared it a federal statutory holiday that is meant to give public servants an opportunity to recognize the legacy of residential schools.

The designated paid holiday for federal employees also addresses one of the 94 calls to action from the Truth and Reconciliation Commission: "We call upon the federal government, in collaboration with Aboriginal peoples, to establish, as a statutory holiday, a National Day for Truth and Reconciliation to honour survivors, their families, and communities, and ensure that public commemoration of the history and legacy of residential schools remains a vital component of the reconciliation process."

Sometimes it's not a good idea to read too much about a movie in advance-in the case of the "Candyman" sequel I read a lot in Rue Morgue magazine on the pre-production, which built up my expectations. I will admit to being a big fan of actor/filmmaker Jordan Peele's work in the horror genre; the movies "Get Out" and "Us" were great and his reboot of "The Twilight Zone" series in 2019 and 2020 were a personal favourite of mine. Jordan is of mixed race descent and he deserves much credit for providing great opportunities for black people in front of-and behind the camera, especially for Nia DaCosta to direct this film. Given all that I do have to say that I was disappointed with this movie. It did start off with a lot of promise-how painter Andy MacCoy (played by Yahya Abdul-Mateen) finds a new muse in the Candyman legend, and the events surrounding the Cabrini Green housing project in Chicago and gentrification of inner-city neighbourhoods. This is what Andy needed to kick-start his stalled career. Then obsession becomes possession. As with most horror movies, graphic violence is the evil twin to horror and this film does indeed have much of that-but not in a gratuitous way, it fits with the violent nature of the Candyman legend. The use of old-fashioned shadow puppetry to tell the tale of Candyman's origins was a great idea and it was good to see Vanessa Williams, Tony Todd and Virginia Madsen reprising their roles from the original movie, but alas even they could not keep this movie on-track. I found that the steam just fizzled out around the halfway mark and although the camera was in focus my interest in the film was not. It degraded into a stylistically pretentious exercise in 'how cool we are' where the backbone of what makes a horror film great gets lost in the blood and visceral violence. I am sure that a number of people will enjoy this film, but for me maybe reading so much advance press for the movie led to greater expectations. I will certainly not be saying "Candyman" 5 times whilst looking in the mirror.

JACK COOL K-LEE RADIO DJ NEWS

I had the pleasure last week of interviewing Thomas Kovacs.

He is best remembered for being cast as Mike in the horror cult classic My Bloody Valentine 1981 which was filmed in the Princess Colliery Mine of Sydney Mines, Nova Scotia.

He's also been in other movies like Pick Up Summer

Hog-wild and many more.

He was also in season 7 of Fear Thy Neighbor episode 3 called Daddy, has a gun where he plays the police officer Ed Lutesm, a respectable cop who relies on his neighbours to take care of his daughter then all hell breaks loose.

Tom wrote a song with author Margaret Atwood called Zodiac Driver. which can be found on Tom's website at <http://www.thomaskovacs.com/> OR ON YOUTUBE @ <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O44SQXgFcuk>.

Tom does a live show on Facebook live every Sunday at 7:30 pm ET.
