NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

With Halloween less than 2 weeks away I thought it would be a perfect time to look at something about one of the original masters of horror-Edgar Allan Poe. This is not however an adaptation of a Poe story, rather it is actually about Poe himself and what inspired him-or possessed him to write one of his most iconic and terrifying stories; "Raven's Hollow" is a new film that takes place in the fall of 1830 when Poe was a West Point army cadet on a training exercise in upstate New York. Without giving away too much it's safe to say that Poe and his 4 fellow cadets discover something gruesome that leads them to a secluded and mysterious village close by, (Raven's Hollow) a place where the inhabitants do not take kindly to outsiders. While his comrades want to get out of the village as soon as possible Poe sees this as an opportunity to gain valuable experience in criminal investigations, and feels strongly that it's their duty to investigate and solve the crime committed. This is definitely a Gothic style horror film, one that creates dark moods and a sense of foreboding, but it does indeed have enough story relevant gore to keep the tale firmly set in the horror genre. Although it may be a bit too cerebral for the average run-of-the-mill slasher flick fan it is definitely worth watching, even just to see something that may have been part of Poe's early life, and how it resulted in a major change/upheaval to said life, laying the groundwork for what followed. I've read a lot of Poe's works (something that can be a bit of a chore for the average reader as Poe's literary styling was firmly set in the mid 1800's) so to see where this film ties in so completely with his classic poem "The Raven" was a treat. Next week this space will be dedicated to the end of a Halloween horror film franchise.

This is the first of over 40 Veterans banners being placed on the poles in downtown North Sydney. The first is Veteran William MacDonald who lived in North Sydney with his wife who was a war bride. Lest We Forget.

Belated Happy Birthday to Grant Robinson who celebrated his birthday on October 16th and Sid Brogan Oct. 19 - from all your friends at the North Sydney Fire Hall

Today, Scorpio, it isn't about how high you can reach but how deep you can go. With the Sun plunging through your subterranean twelfth house AND aligned with passionate Mars in your zone of secrets, you could go scrambling down an emotional rabbit hole. Your curiosity could quickly turn to obsession, especially if this is about a certain love interest. But be careful where you aim that shovel. If you poke into someone's private affairs, you'd best be prepared to dig up some old bones.

SOME HELPFUL HALLOWEEN TIPS

1. When it appears that you have killed the monster, NEVER check to see if it's really dead.
2. Do not search the basement, especially if the power has gone out.
3. When you have the benefit of numbers, NEVER pair off and go it alone.
4. As a general rule, don't solve puzzles that open portals to Hell.
5. Never stand in, on, or above a grave, tomb, or crypt. This would apply to any other house of the dead as well.
6. If you're searching for something which caused a loud noise and find out that it's just the cat, GET OUT!
7. If appliances start operating by themselves, do not check for short circuits; just get out!
8. If you find a town which looks deserted, there's probably a good reason for it. Don't stop and look around.
