Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Exhibition Grounds Sold To Local Group

Great news for those who were hoping for the sale of the Exhibition Grounds in North Sydney - it has been sold to a local group headed by Donnie MacNeil, co-founder of the Cape Breton Exhibition Society

The site, owned by the Cape Breton Richmond Federation of Agriculture, was originally listed for $1.1 million.

The property has been sold to the Cape Breton Exhibition Society, one of four bidders for the property.

This has pleased many local harness racing and horse racing groups that used the facilities for its programs. The property was rumoured to be sold to commercial developers and the public were upset to see the Exhibition Grounds be developed for commercial businesses or housing projects.

The local committee presented their proposal to the board of directors for the Federation of Agriculture to their membership at a general meeting on Thursday evening.

The board considered four proposals before deciding on the Cape Breton Exhibition Society as the new owners of the property.

There was a great deal of discussion generated concerning the property and many citizens felt that the property should be used as it was originally intended.

Many individuals businesses and community groups offered support to the new Society in their effort to keep the site operating.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE - A Membership Drive will be held at the North Sydney Fire Hall on Pierce Street on May 9th for the public to show support. Let us show the Society that we support them and their efforts to keep the facilities operating.

I've had the great opportunity to write about a number of Newfoundland's musical artists this year, and all of them are amazing musicians-but this week's artist is definitely one of the most unique. Jing Xia is a university student who was born in China and has chosen to continue her post-secondary music studies at Memorial University in St. John's. Since she was 6 years old Jing has studied and mastered the Zheng-or Guzheng (a Chinese plucked board zitar that dates back to the 3rd century B.C.). "Numinous Journey" is Jing's debut album; the word 'numinous' usually means "having a strong religious or spiritual quality; indicating or suggesting the presence of a divinity". An appropriate name for a collection that is heavenly to listen to. There are 8 tracks on the CD and it starts out with "The Chill", a very tranquil, traditional and almost meditative number filled with an exotic charm, and "Fisherman Singing in the Twilight" has a similar relaxing feel. Things do a 180 degree turn when "Fantasia" starts; it's a cacophonous and slightly ominous sonic adventure that has a real sense of foreboding in the notes. From there "Language of Pipa" restores the earlier musical harmony and balance, and "Lin Chong Fled

At Night" bounces along with a definite intention. Lin Chong is a character in "Water Margin", one of the Four Great Classical Novels in Chinese literature. Nicknamed "Panther Head", he ranks sixth among the 36 Heavenly Spirits, the first third of the 108 Stars of Destiny, so this number has a deep-rooted history. As for the rest of the numbers here, "Tune of Rainbow Cloud" has a more classical structure to it and really highlights Jing's versatility on the Zheng. To be honest, the track "Memories" is a bit scary, with an experimental fusion that definitely grabs your attention. The album closes out with "Spring Comes to the Xiang River" and serves as a bookend for a meditative journey of sonic delights that will be new to many here on the east coast. Jing was joined here on one number by Chang Chang, and then Teresa Connors and Jacob Danson Faraday on another. You can get copies of the CD at the Atlanticmusicstore website or by contacting Jing on her Facebook page.

It is also a time when treasure hunters hit the streets. As they say, one person's trash is another person's treasure.

The 2022 heavy garbage collection is scheduled to start on Monday, May 30. Please do not place materials curbside for this collection until the weekend of May 27-29.

Items not accepted for heavy garbage collection will be left uncollected for a resident to remove from the curb.

Electronics: Electronics including countertop microwaves, video gaming systems & peripheral, GPS systems, e-book readers, desk top computers, portable computers, tablets, computer monitors, computer peripheral, desktop printers, televisions, personal/portable audio & video play back and recording systems, vehicle audio/video systems, home theatre in a box (HTB) systems, home audio/video systems, external storage devices & modems, non-cellular telephones & cellular devices.

Residential Hazardous waste such as solvents, Pesticides and oil, propane tanks, fluorescent lights, asphalt shingles, vehicle parts, used tires, leaf and yard waste, left over paint cans. See the recycling centres below to drop off these items.

There are four local Drop-Off Centres located in CBRM:

TAX TIPSTAX TIPS FOR SENIORS

Make sure you file a tax return - Always file, because you could be entitled to other credits, deductions and benefits that get triggered by your tax return such as GST/HST credits. If you're receiving Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS) through Old Age Security, make sure to file on time to ensure their benefits continue uninterrupted.

Income split and save - You're allowed to split up to half of your eligible pension income with a spouse or common-law partner. Income splitting allows some seniors to enjoy a significant tax reduction. In the situation where the lower-income spouse has very little income, the tax savings are substantial. If your spouse is unable to completely offset his or her age amount, pension income and disability amount against tax payable, he or she may transfer the unused portion to your return.

Split your CPP and save - You may be able to split part of your CPP retirement benefits with your spouse depending on how long you lived together when you were contributing to the plan. This is an advantage if one senior is in a higher tax bracket than the other. However, to do so, you must apply to Human Resources & Social Development Canada using Form ISP-1002. It cannot be done at the time of tax preparation.

Medical expenses can add up - A portion of most medical expenses can be claimed! Everything from medication to nursing home fees, and even medical insurance for a trip or wintering in another country is considered eligible. Medical expenses are reduced by a percentage of your income, so it is normally more beneficial for the lower income spouse to claim them. And if you had to travel to obtain medical treatment that was not available where you live, you may be able to claim the cost of transportation, meals and accommodation.
