NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Take 2

PAUL POWER

With Halloween just weeks away I wanted to look back at one of the most ground-breaking and influential horror movies of all time; "The Blair Witch Project". Although not the first 'found footage film', "Blair Witch" popularized the genre-and cost $60,000 to make-but earned over 250 million dollars in profit thus far. It's the story of three film students doing research on the local legend of the Blair Witch, in Burkittsville, Maryland. They hike into the forest, camp and then disappear. Their film equipment is recovered, and the footage shows what happened. I worked in television production for almost 30 years and I know that 'faking' found footage is a very hard thing to do convincingly; "The Blair Witch Project" mastered that feat, right down to condensation building up on the camera lens, frantic movements, running through deep woods, and genuine panic and fatigue as the actors were made to cover long distances each day, actually getting lost at times, with the crew harassing them each night and limiting food. The ad campaign was brilliant; before its premiere at the 1999

Sundance Film Festival posters of the actors were circulated stating that they were missing, or dead. When the film was picked up by a major entertainment label they did the same thing-as well as producing television commercials that presented the film as a real event, and a documentary was done by the directors Daniel Myrick and Eduardo Sanchez for the SciFi Channel called "The Curse of the Blair Witch"; released prior to the actual film's release. Audiences believed that they were watching real events. To this day some people hate found footage films, finding they induce motion sickness or headaches-I like them when they're done well, like this movie and "Cloverfield". When I saw this movie in the theatre the audience just sat there at the end wondering what did we just see, as the ending was jarring, and creepy as old Hell. It was spooktacular!

ST. ANDREW'S TO HOST EVANS AND DOHERTY AT CELTIC COLOURS CONCERT OCT. 13

Most of the local people around the Sydney Mines's area, are all too familiar with the International singing duo Evans and Doherty as they have performed at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church before. The one thing that is new this year is, they will be performing with Celtic Colours. This is their first time performing with the festival and they are thrilled to be performing in a church where they feel so comfortable and welcomed.

To capture the true essence of this fantastic duo, take a lively blend of traditional, original and contemporary song and throw in some humor and true stories and then sit back and watch these fine entertainers do their stuff, which they have done for over thirty years. They will make you laugh and will have you clapping your hands and tapping your feet, you won't be able to resist it. Kevin Evans and Brian Doherty are first rate musicians, songwriters, promoters and producers and have to the ability to put on a show that will leave you smiling. Kevin is a songwriter and producer and has some of his music recorded by people such as John MacDermott, Liam Clancy, Tommy Makem and even the legendary Stoppin' Tom Connors and so many more.

Along with Evans and Doherty is Tim Edey who is one of the world's finest guitarist and plays a variety of different instruments. In addition to all this, Tim has a fine singing voice and has toured the world and has recorded with major names in the Celtic roots music such as J. P. Cormier, The Chieftians, The Barra MacNeils, Natalie MacMaster and so many more.

So if you are an Evans and Doherty fan, then this is your one and only chance to see them in Cape Breton this year, so grab your tickets now to ensure to get to see this great duo. Tickets are $30 each and on sale through the Celtic Colours Box Office or can be purchased at Shoppers Drug Mart in North Sydney or Sexton's Pharmasave in Sydney Mines. Remember Celtic Colours at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Friday, October 13th, at 7:30 p.m. This is going to be a Great Concert!

Dear Editor, my table is laden, with harvest sown.

Asparagus, rhubarb, radishes over flowin.

An extra leaf for tomatoes, chives, fiddleheads, garlic, potatoes with eyes. Brussel Sprouts, apples cantaloupe, cherries, cauliflower, endives, maybe more berries.

Parsley, parsnips, peaches, pears, rutabagas, beans, to round out my fare.

Before laying down pen, I would be remiss, not to mention Mr. Pumpkin on side table does sit.

What Goes Around, Comes Around

Manual Training, or Shop Class, as it would be known today, was one of the best features for young teens growing up during the 60s and 70s. It was not for the projects we did like window boxes, or end tables, but the illegal stuff we made for our own projects. One of the things we would make is our own racing carts with parts we scrounged from several junk yards and back yards and cobbled together with nails from the Steel Plant and screw nails and bolts we "borrowed" from Manual Training. It was more like the Sea King helicopter operation where we would have 6 guys building a cart.... 1 driver, two pushers and three "mechanics". The driver was always the smallest in weight and the pushers were bruisers capable of joining the Canadiens defence line. The mechanics were responsible for the parts and crew operations of the cart. We would race around a course we laid out in a vacant lot.

Usually the wheels or the steering were first to go. When we discovered that we were not the fastest cart, we decided to resort to other desperate tactics like smashing into the other car like a demolition derby and hope to be the last one rolling. We could never compete with Gary Fuller's car because his father worked at a hardware store and he had "factory parts" for his carts. We had to make do with junkyard gear. Each week we would slowly make our way home with faces like the ABC Agony of Defeat promos. Instead of congratulating Gary, we would plot ways to get even.

Sometimes you tend to overthink plans. I can truthfully attest that our gang would not be considered in that group. Hawk Tracey blurted out, "Why don't we swipe a hack saw blade from the Manual Training shop and cut Gary's axle halfway through so that it will crack at the first turn and we'll win"

Then, like a light slowing dawning, Ronnie MacPhee said, "Since we will win. Why not put a $5 bet on it?" Ronnie wouldn't be mistaken for an Einstein but this was one of his brief flashes of brilliance.

We set up the race for the weekend and Gary accepted immediately. Word went around and on Saturday morning we had quite a crowd waiting to see our ultimate disgrace in the cart racing world. On Friday night, Hawk and I snuck over to Gary's back yard and patiently cut the front axle with the hack saw blade.

So when the race started, we assumed that the axle would snap immediately but we were quite surprised when Gary took off without a hitch. We started to push but Gary was already about half a lap ahead. Our pushers were bruisers but not long winded.

We had agreed to 5 laps and by the halfway mark Gary was just about ready to lap us when Providence shone upon us and the axle snapped. We cheered and with a renewed strength pushed our cart to victory while Gary and his crew had the cart turned over and when we demanded our money, he accused us of sabotage.

Naturally, we were outraged and said that Gary was a "welcher" and "a poor loser". There was nothing worse you could accuse a kid of then being a poor loser. Gary paid up but vowed to "get even" but it never happened because we couldn't beat Gary and his cart on a good day with a tailwind.

This stunt also made it into my top 5 All Time favorite childhood pranks. By the way, Gary went on to become a lawyer. Does anyone know the statute of limitations on axle cutting?
