NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

I'm a huge fan of the 1922 silent film "Nosferatu", an unofficial adaptation of Bram Stoker's "Dracula" novel, but it's actually about the vampire Count Orlok; I consider that film to be the best vampire film, but when I heard about this movie release I knew I had to watch it. "The Last Voyage of the Demeter" is an adaptation of "The Captain's Log", a chapter from the 1897 novel "Dracula" and follows the doomed voyage of the merchant ship Demeter as it transports a number of large wooden crates from Transylvania to London. Most of the actors featured here probably won't be that familiar to most-except for Liam Cunningham (best known from "Game of Thrones") as Captain Elliot. What transpires is a very Gothic styled horror film with enough gore to keep fans of that stuff captivated but for the most part this is a beautifully-shot movie that creates the sense of dread the crew face onboard the weathered but still majestic ship. Things quickly go from bad to worse and are best described by the following Captain's quote; "We're a doomed crew Mr. Clemens on a doomed ship. We no longer plot our course the devil below does. We all know where he plans to deliver us, Mr. Clemens. To hell. One by one." I loved this film because for me the best Horror movie is one that features a Gothic template, and also conveys a total sense of hopelessness in the face of a monster like one never seen before. Kudos to Dracula, played by Javier Bodet Lopez, who is 6 feet 7 inches tall and is able to take his Marfan Syndrome and morph into amazing contortions and movements. He was also in "The Mummy", "Slenderman" and "Insidious" to name a few. His portrayal here as Dracula is the best I have ever seen. Set sail with this movie-if you dare.

Sydney Mines Singer/Songwriter Bruce Guthro Passes Away at 62

Cape Breton has lost another of its great singer/songwriters with the passing of Bruce Guthro, a Sydney Mines resident. Bruce began his career performing at the local clubs and Legions and went on the international fame with the Celtic Scottish Band, Runrig, as their lead singer for 20 years.

Bruce was a talented performer and musician and helped to pass on his legacy through his family and with his successful Songwriters Circle which provided much needed exposure for up and coming new artists.

Bruce had battled cancer and passed away September 5th from the disease.

Bruce is survived by his wife Kim, two children Jodi and Dylan, accomplished musicians in their own right.

He was very popular around his home town of Sydney Mines and always ready to help with music events. He will be missed by all his friends and fellow musicians.
