NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Take 2

PAUL POWER

Even though Halloween has passed I still picked a new horror film to write about this week; "Pet Sematary: Bloodlines" is presented as a 'prequel' to the 2019 remake of the original 1989 film (confused yet?). This one is set in 1969 and stars Jackson White as a young Jud Crandall (played by John Lithgow in the 2019 remake) as he plans on leaving his hometown of Ludlow, Maine; plans that get waylaid by a cursed family legacy linked to evil spirits in an ancient Micmac (their spelling) burial site. The 'Sematary' was the place kids would bury their dead animals-however it was also suggested that it was used to bury the victims of cannibalism, and as a result became haunted by the Wendigo, a demonic creature that is part of Native American folklore. The film locations (including) Montreal, are very relatable. In the lead role Jackson White is a pretty good actor, but Native American actor Forrest Goodluck ("The Revenant", "Blood Quantum") pretty much steals the spotlight away as Crandall's best friend Manny. The most recognizable names here are David Duchovny, Pam Grier and Henry Thomas ("ET") as Jud's dad. Duchovny is decent here, Grier's talents are under-used, as she is an actress of legendary status, but Thomas is actually creepier than just about anything else in this movie; I don't think he was acting! This franchise has been chasing the impact of the very first film since 1989 with some success-but critics were not big fans of this one (but I always say never let that be your guide, if you're interested in seeing a certain film, do it and then make up your own mind). For me overall this entry in the franchise is definitely worth watching, but it doesn't have the impact of the first movie. That may be partly because the original film was released in a time where we, as viewers of horror, were not so jaded.

North Sydney Pensioners

Can you believe it's November already? The Seniors and Pensioners Club is alive and active. We are getting ready for our Remembrance Day Tea on Wednesday Nov 8th, from 2-4. We will be serving sandwiches and sweets. Theresa Rideout will be on music and if you're lucky, you may even win a door prize. Come, enjoy some wonderful company, eat, drink all the tea you want and relax. This is your chance to have a mini vacation before the hectic Christmas season begins, all for the low price of $10. Can't beat that! For tickets call Bev at 794-9436 or Liz at 577-2833. There will also be a few tickets available at the door.

We also have Bingo every Saturday night, on Sunday Nov. 12th we have the Jammers playing music and on Nov. 19, Bob Finney is playing. Come listen and dance if you are so inclined. On Friday the 10th we will be having a dance with music by Theresa Rideout. Come and join us where the seniors play!

THE GIFTS OF THE MAGI

When you're young and Christmas approaches, you start to get caught up in the magic of the season. I love everything about Christmas from the tree decorating to the wonderful aroma of food and "sweets" baking. One of the most time honored Christmas traditions for my brother and I was "rootin'."

We would try to find my mother's hiding places and guess at the presents we were going to get for Christmas. It was all a part of the overall Christmas spirit and we were pretty good at guessing and finding the gifts.

One Christmas in 1963, my mother came home from shopping with an armload of bags. My brother and I pretended ignorance of seeing the gifts. That night my mother and father went to play darts at the Sargeant's Mess.

My brother and I decided to do some recon. We set out like we were scouts for the Calvary looking at all the old spots. We never found a single gift. We decided to look in the hallway closet but figured there would be nothing there.

To our great surprise, we saw all the gifts just sitting there on the shelves not even wrapped! We were thrilled at first but then it slowly sunk into us that we knew exactly what we were getting for Christmas. There was new skates, a watch, hockey sticks, a fishing rod and reel and assorted games. I remember quite clearly that the thrill of "the hunt" was now over.

This was only a week before Christmas so my brother and I agreed that we better act surprised on Christmas morning or our mother would know we were "rootin'". On that particular Christmas morning my brother and I slept in for the first time in many years. We were not up at the crack of dawn because we already knew what we were getting.

The first present my brother opened was a chemistry set. We both looked at each other in surprise wonder how we missed that one. The first gift I opened was a microscope and with the same reaction. We both wondered where she had hid that one. This continued on and we never did unwrap a watch, hockey stick or fishing rod. I still remember my brother and I talking late on a cold December night and agreeing not to root anymore as it ruined our Christmas.

My mother commented that we really seemed surprised. We just said we thought we were getting other things. It wasn't until many years later that we discovered that my mother and our next door neighbour had traded places with the Christmas gifts. The kids got all the gifts we saw in the closet and our gifts were hidden next door.

I was cured of "rootin'" for Christmas but I'll never forget that very special 1963 Christmas when my brother and I were set up by "wisemen" or more specifically, "wise women."
