NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

BY PAUL
POWER

Willie Nelson – “Last Man Standing” - When someone turns 85 years old and releases their sixty-seventh album that's huge milestones. In this case it's the “Redheaded Stranger”, who in addition to being a living legend (literally) is also a staunch supporter and campaigner for legalized marijuana, putting him right up there with Snoop Dogg-but we all know that Willie is way cooler.

This album's namesake, and opening song pays homage to Willie's contemporaries who have passed on-leaving him holding the 'outlaw' reins. Rather than cloak this song in a melancholy blanket Willie goes for a lighthearted country-swing delivery when he sings “I don't want to be the last man standing...on second thought maybe I do”. As a matter of fact the whole album touches on remembrances, some regrets and a lot of resilience-in a lighthearted way with lyrics such as “Heaven is closed, and hell's overcrowded, so I think I'll stay where I am.” (“Heaven is Closed”). This album is a follow-up to “God's Problem Child”, which was more meditative, as Willie ruminated on mortality-but this time for the most part it's a lighter spin with lyrics like “Halitosis is a word I never could spell, but bad breath is better than no breath at all” (the song is actually called “Bad Breath”).

As mentioned earlier Willie's last album was a bit more serious-and on this album he still touches on sage words of advice, such as dealing with loss on the jazzy “Something You Get Through”; “It's not something you get over, but it's something you get through.” There are many moments of cheeky one-liners; the swinging honky-tonk number “She Made My Day” is loaded with them-showing us that Willie still knows how to have a lot of fun. The outright kicking country-blues song “I Ain't Got Nothin” is an instant classic for sure-the steel guitar and piano work is great on this track. That honky-tonk swing abounds on “Don't Tell Noah” and “Ready To Roar”, and you can actually hear the enjoyment Willie and the band are having.

There's also a slice of irony as Willie sings “I'll Try To Do Better Next Time”, ruminating on reincarnation-what he'll be in the next life, and how he'll try to do better. Here's to hoping that this album isn't Willie's last, but God forbid if it was-it would be a fantastic way to check out.

Next week I'll be taking a look at another legendary musician who just released an album that's also full of retrospection, and the passage of time-not saying who it is-you'll have to grab a copy of this newspaper to find out

CBRM COMMUNITY NEWS ITEMS

CBRM's National Multiculturalism Day June 27th

Cape Breton Regional Municipality is rich in multiculturalism; dating back to the 1900's when such industries as steel production, coal mining and fishing attracted an array of immigrant workers and their families.

CBRM is planning an celebration at the CBU Courtyard on June 27th from 6:00 - 9:30 pm.

Shawn Bethke Dean of Multiversity stated: "Cape Breton University is looking forward to partnering with the CBRM again this coming June 27th in the CBU Courtyard for National Multiculturalism Day.

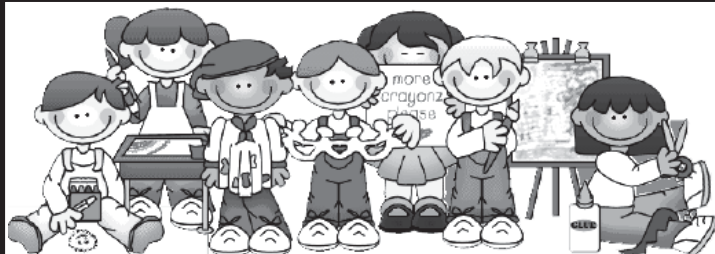

This event showcases the rich diversity of culture that CBU provides to our students and to the community.

CBU invites all of Cape Breton Island to come and experience all that CBU has to offer at this wonderful once a year event which we hope will be even bigger and better than last year's which drew thousands to campus and culminated in an extraordinary fireworks display".

The event planning committee for Multiculturalism Day 2018 are accepting registrations for Cultural Fashion Show participants and Vendors to participate in the Vendor Market; registration is FREE.

Please note while product sale is permitted, food sales are not permitted on site.

Interested parties can register by phone 902-563-5510 or email: recreation@cbrm.ns.ca
