Unlike the conventional methods of rust proofing which tend to work as coating, a KROWN treatment actually displaces moisture and creeps into the inner metal fold of the vehicle - the areas where the most rust problems start. The KROWN formula remains active as an invisible barrier to repel moisture and salt and prevent it from re-entering the metal. The KROWN product can be applied in any season and weather.

NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

NEW BOOK LAUNCH

Minstrel Publications has just published its 7th Cape Breton Book "Cape Breton Storyteller" and it contains 27 stories of Celtic legends, Myths, local UFO stories and some Ghost stories suitable for telling around a bonfire.

Glen Gray has compiled and written the book and it is being released this week at various outlets and is available locally at Buffetts Office Supplies on Commercial Street in North Sydney.

Other books in this series include; Da Mudder Tung, a Cape Breton slang dictionary, Annudder Muddder, Cape Breton Joke Book, Tall Tales & Udder Lies, Cape Breton Recipe Book, Cape Breton Christmas Memories and the recently released Cape Breton Storyteller.

Gray draws on past ghost stories and first hand reports of unusual and strange happenings he has collected over the years.

You can win a FREE COPY of this Book by entering this Contest and answering the contest question correctly.

Name the family group that recorded the song "Tell My Ma" and send your answer to - contest@kleeradio.com and we'll select 5 winners for a free copy of the new book.

Fahrenheit 451 - I like when literary classics are made into films, and Ray Bradbury's 1953 novel "Fahrenheit 451" is a literary classic. Granted, the novel was adapted for film first in 1966 by Pinewood studios in England. For it's time that adaptation was great, and it was pretty faithful to the book. For those of you who may not know the story it's set in what is described as a dystopian future where society is tightly controlled-and the government sends out "firemen" to destroy all literature, to prevent freethinking and revolution.

In this 2018 remake some changes were made to reflect the times; the only reading allowed is on the internet, called "the 9", where everything is censored and most books are banned, only to be burned by the "firemen" if found. The firemen are part of the "Ministry", a fascist dictatorship who blames unhappiness, mental illness, and questioning authority on reading the wrong books.

Guy Montag, is one of the firefighters who goes about his day-to-day job without question, and believing if he follows his fireman father's footsteps he is making a difference in protecting society. This all comes to an end (or a new beginning) when he meets an informant named Clarisse, who makes him question his actions, beliefs and convictions by sharing the real history of America-and the rise of the Ministry.

Guy is played by Michael B. Jordan (no relation to the other guy with the same name) and Michael recently showed up in "Black Panther", "Creed" and "Justice League"-so he's a good actor, but in this case putting him up against Michael Shannon (his boss-Captain Beatty) was a bit of a bad step because as an actor

Michael Shannon always brings a smoldering intensity (no pun intended) to every role, and here he upstages Jordan throughout the story. That's not a shot at Jordan; it's just a fact.

Here's a few interesting sidenotes on this movie: Mel Gibson was planning on directing it, with Tom Cruise as the lead-but conflicting schedules nixed those plans. Brad Pitt was also being considered for the lead role. Also, author Ray Bradbury never did scientifically confirm that "451 degrees Fahrenheit" was the point where books would burn - he got the 'guesstimate' from a fire chief. Bradbury liked the answer for a title and went with it. However, it's judgment time and in the case of this movie-the 1966 version was better, and the actual book even more so; this remake can't really hold a candle to either. So I'd recommend watching the original, or even better, read the book.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Yard Sale & Bake Sale

The weather outside may not feel like summer with the cold winds and rain, but that's not damping the spirits of the congregation of St. Andrew's while they prepare for their annual Yard Sale and Bake Sale. They are busy gathering up items, sorting and pricing each individual piece that comes in from donors. On Saturday, June 30th at 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. you will see rows of tables displayed in the church yard, filled with items. Also if you get hungry, there will be hotdogs and pop for sale at a low price.

At the back of the field you will find our Bake Table filled with lots of homemade goodies, from Pies, Loaves, Tea Biscuits and a whole lot more. Bev Aker is in charge of our Bake Table and if you know Bev at all you will know she is a fabulous baker. Bev use to work at the Northside General Hospital and did the baking for a number of years and has recently retired. When there is a canteen at a concert, Bev is always called upon to bake cookies or if we need baking done for a Bake Table, Bev knows she will receive a call to help out.

The Yard Sale is an annual event at St. Andrew's since they started fundraising ten years ago. With the declining congregations churches are forced to fundraise to help with their yearly expenses. St. Andrew's is no different and will continue to fundraise in the years to come. This year there are a number of events planned at St. Andrew's. We have the Barra MacNeil's concert in August along with the Celtic Colours in October and a few more in between. But for now the congregation is focusing on the Yard Sale and Bake Sale.

So mark this event on your calendars for Saturday, June 30th from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Sydney Mines in the church yard. If the weather does not co-operate it will be held in the church hall. So grab a friend and come on down and take a look at what we have. You never know what will catch your eye.
