Unlike the conventional methods of rust proofing which tend to work as coating, a KROWN treatment actually displaces moisture and creeps into the inner metal fold of the vehicle - the areas where the most rust problems start. The KROWN formula remains active as an invisible barrier to repel moisture and salt and prevent it from re-entering the metal. The KROWN product can be applied in any season and weather.

NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

I read a very interesting article in Rolling Stone magazine recently about the 'demise' of the compact disc, and how there is a real irony in what is currently happening in the music business. Granted, the stats mentioned are based on the American market-but are interesting and for the most part similar to the Canadian trends, so here they are; Compact Disc sales have dropped 80% in the United States in the past 10 years, and a lot of car manufacturers are not even putting CD players in new vehicles. Interestingly enough, streaming music services are also seeing huge profit drops.

Now here's the irony; Vinyl records (of which CD's almost killed off) are enjoying a resurgence since about 2006, and record sales hit a 25 year high last year, plus most major artists are embracing the return of the mighty 12 inch vinyl circle.

So who, according to the experts are still buying CD's? Daniel Glass (of indie label Glassnotes Records) says for the most part it's WalMart shoppers, and fans of country music and greatest hits collections. Interestingly enough, when they first came out in the 1980's CD's started a massive music business expansion, but couldn't withstand the attacks by Napster, online piracy and eventually iTunes. However, many people still want to actually own something physical, and not deal with the hassle services like Spotify and Pandora present when setting up a car stereo, or home audio system. Another group that still uses CD's are the independent artists who hawk them at live shows; the truth is that it's less expensive to press a stack of CD's than it is to do the pressings on vinyl. Ironically though, as CD processing plants close down-vinyl plants are opening. Those industry insiders who thought the record revival was a fad were so wrong-and when was the last time they were wrong? How about every decade-right? Truth be told, a lot of people are selling off some of, or all of their CD collections-yet some people are more than delighted to find great deals on used CD's. Myself, I buy new records, new CD's and used CD's-and I have sold records as well as CD's I had, but didn't want anymore. There are also times that when I buy a new release on vinyl there is a digital download included.

According to musician Jack White (one of vinyl's biggest fans) he sees the next 10 years trending towards streaming services-and vinyl, depending on where the listener wants the music; on the road, in the gym, the kitchen, living room, etc. He had a great statement that vinyl is "written in stone" for posterity. To sum it all up, no matter what delivery method for music you use-the choice is yours. So keep spinning-long live vinyl!

CANADA DAY - NORTHSIDE
In my own voice, it is about time
we get together as a town or community and get something going in town. Why is everything in North Sydney?

We have just as many open spaces in town that could rotate each year like Emera Centre.

CBRM should start looking out for other areas in Sydney Mines or Florence.

We have a lot of organizations in each community to help or support us.
