'THANKS'

Word in Webster one should embellish,

Word Thanks, forever we cherish.

Directed to Mom's our Dad's too,

For bringing us up, so strong, so true.

Infant, adult, stops between, Parent's Protector from dangers unseen,

Grateful we are for leading us through,

Acknowledge you now, Mom and Dad, Thank You.

NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

We've got your back!

Paul Simon / Paul McCartney - For this week I'm doing a first for this column; reviewing 2 new albums at the same time. Paul McCartney and Paul Simon both shared the experience of being in mega-huge bands/duos respectively and both went onto great success as solo artists afterwards. So this could be called "a tale of 2 Paul's" or even "Simon & McCartney".... o.k. maybe not. It's been 5 years since Paul McCartney released an album and his "Egypt Station" is a great return. It's described as a concept album where the songs take you to different "stations" but don't let that discourage you one bit-the songs stand alone on their own merits, and the online buzz is all about the great songs "Fuh You" and "Come On To Me" as Paul gets cleverly cheeky. Of course the Fab Four casts a long shadow over the songs "I Don't Know", "Happy With You" and "Caesar Rock", which is to be expected. The biggest surprise comes with the track "Hunt You Down-Naked-C-Link" as Paul channels his Wings days into a solid rocker of a song. Paul McCartney is 76 years old now and this album lets us hear that he has not mellowed to the point of no return, and knows how to balance the softer musical touch with the hard thump of a great rock song.

Paul Simon's "In The Blue Light" is his fourteenth solo album, yet has no new material on it per SE; Paul has re-recorded versions of songs from previous albums, giving them a stripped-down, bare bones presentation. The songs are also lesser known ones-so it's not a greatest hits collection by any means. That's not to say the album isn't good-the reworkings help shed a new light on Paul's vocal delivery, and instrumentation, making for an overall pleasant listen. For instance, "One Man's Ceiling Is Another Man's Floor" has a dramatic, smokey feeling to it and "The Teacher" really rings of Simon & Garfunkel's best days together. "Some Folk's Lives Roll Easy" reminds me of Sting's music and "Question For The Angels" is touching, soft and observational-the kind of song that Paul Simon is well-known for writing. Overall this is an album that Simon's fans will especially enjoy because even though the material is not new-the presentation is, so that makes it relatively new. I'm also not going to say one album is better than the other-both have individual merits that make them worthy of the listener's undivided attention. Enjoy!
