Unlike the conventional methods of rust proofing which tend to work as coating, a KROWN treatment actually displaces moisture and creeps into the inner metal fold of the vehicle - the areas where the most rust problems start. The KROWN formula remains active as an invisible barrier to repel moisture and salt and prevent it from re-entering the metal. The KROWN product can be applied in any season and weather.

NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

CABOT TRAIL WRITERS FESTIVAL

October 4 - 6th at the Galeic College in St. Ann's, the Highlands blaze with autumn color as writers from across the country join for a three day celebration of the written word.

The featured guests this year include; Lynn Coady, George Elliot Clarke, Tom Ryan, Alicia Elliot, Lesley Crewe, Sara Peters, Joshua Mensch, Jessica Westhead, Mark Medley and Eleanor Watchel and other literary and musical guests.

On the program for the weekend are writing workshops and panel conversations, readings and interviews, a literary forest stroll, a multi-lingual Gaelic-English event, a special talk on The lives of Writers presented by Eleanor Wachtel, live musical performances and more.

So, follow the Cabot Trail to the heat of Cape Breton and come share in the joy and power of stories, songs, community and culture, here on the island of storytellers.

I'm sure some of you have seen new audio cassettes on store shelves lately, and probably thought "what?". Given the fact that audio cassettes first appeared in 1963 and unofficially died out around 2001. Vinyl records never totally disappeared though, but were almost extinct-and then saw a resurgence from the mainstream buyer, as opposed to the days when it was just audiophiles keeping the heartbeat of vinyl going. According to Rolling Stone magazine (thanks to Kathryn Chislett for sharing the link) in the United States vinyl sales are growing three times as fast as CD sales are declining, and will soon totally surpass CD sales.

part the cassette return is a marketing/fan collectible thing, but sales in the states grew 23% in 2018 (according to Nielsen Music) with 219,000 tapes sold in 2018 compared with 178,000 in 2017. In the U.K., sales were up 112% year to year in the first half of 2019, even if that means only 36,000 cassettes sold. In Canada, Nielsen Music Canada says overall sales of cassettes went up approximately 14 per cent in 2018, with total sales of cassettes reaching 8,500 copies up to December 20th.

Most of those were again from the “Guardians of the Galaxy” soundtracks. The allure of that pocket-sized marvel comes down to a few reasons; for new releases it’s nostalgia, where years ago it was the whole bootleg capability for bands and fans, with tapes being cheap and easy to record-and pass around, especially from vinyl rips, and now it's people wanting to actually own something when they buy music, not like digital albums that really doesn't exist physically. I have a lot of experience using audio cassettes, both professionally and personally-and I still have numerous expensive machines for recording, but when CD's replaced cassettes it was a definite leap forward. However, I still have my cassettes that I bought years ago, and will always keep them. For me the return of the cassette is neat to see. Let's press PLAY and enjoy the ride.

GORDIE SAMPSON SONGCAMP

For the past 10 years, Grammy Award winner Gordie Sampson has returned to Cape Breton each summer to host and participate in a week long immersive songwriting camp, with the exclusive goal of helping young artists develop a strong voice and build collaborative writing skills that would allow them to contribute to the international songwriting industry.

This November, Nova Scotia Music Week and the Cape Breton Music Cooperative are honoured to be presenting The 10th Anniversary Gordie Sampson Songcamp Show.

With Gordie Sampson as the host, he will shine the spotlight on eight of the incredible song camp participants from the last decade.

The show will include performances by Cameron Nickerson, Carleton Stone, Dave Sampson, Kayleigh O'Connor, Makayla Lynn, Maura Whitman, and Willie Stratton, with Gordie Sampson also playing some of the songs he's best known for.
