NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

NORTHSIDE COMMUNITY NEWS

Twelve year old Ava Paufler has written two Christmas songs, A Star Shone over Bethlehem and Lump of Coal, which she co-wrote with her mother, Jennifer.

She has been writing songs for a few years now. They recently had them recorded locally with Kim Lance at Coda recording studios.

Ava sings both songs and her brother, Thomas(11), sings harmony in A Star Shone Over Bethlehem. Guitar and bass are played by Duncan Wells.

The Pauglers, Stephen and Jennifer, were born and raised in Cape Breton. They moved to Ontario a number of years ago and Ava and Thomas were raised in Northern Ontario in Elliot Lake. They studied voice, violin and piano with two great teachers, Ann Foy and Christine Davies.

The family moved back to Cape Breton about a year ago so Ava and Thomas could be close to their family and their roots. They are currently living in Sydney.

Ava and Thomas have been very involved in the Celtic music scene in Cape Breton and in the summer of 2018 Ava and Thomas played fiddle and sang at both the Chestic Museum in Port Hood and Alice Freeman's Ceilidh at the Inverness Firehall in Inverness. ug MacPhee on Fiddle Day this spring, Ava and Thomas are currently enrolled in Na Gaisgich Òga, a Gaelic emersion program at the Gaelic College which they are enjoying very much.

Take 2 with PAUL POWER

Well, Christmas isn't far away- but not everyone enjoys this time of year; some actually hate Christmas. It is hard to be joyful if you've lost a loved one, may be sick, down on your luck or just hate the perverse and crass commercialization that hijacked what is supposed to be a holy time of the year.

Heck, even the modern Santa Claus as we know him was created by Coca Cola (in the 1930's) and White Rock Beverages (in the early 1900's) to sell their pop. Given all that, there's nothing more anti-Christmas than Krampus.

The legend of Krampus predates Christianity; in Europe he was represented as a half-goat/half-demon creature who punished bad children at Christmas-like an anti-Santa. In Germany and Austria it's believed that pagan and Christian elements were combined, and that Krampus was comparable to the Christian devil. Two movies come to mind as devilishly delightful Christmas horrors about this unholy beast; 2015's "Krampus" is a good flick that features actors Toni Collette, Adam Scott and David Koechner, with Emjay Anthony as the young boy who turns his back on Christmas (thanks to his dysfunctional family) thereby conjuring up Krampus who punishes the non-believers. Trustworthy and loved holiday icons take on an evil life of their own, attacking the household and forcing the extended family to join forces and fight if they want to survive. The Krampus make-up here is amazing. The other nasty yuletide eye-treat is 2015's "A Christmas Horror Story" which has William Shatner playing radio host "Dangerous Dan" doing his Christmas Eve show, while getting plastered in the process. The movie is actually an anthology of stories, with Santa Claus fighting off zombies, a group of teenagers investigating a haunted site of a murder, a married couple's son who gets replaced by a 'changeling' and a greedy family who has an encounter with our old friend Krampus (great make-up job on this beast too). So if you need a break from the all the over-the-top sugary holiday movies shake those "slay bells", pour yourself a glass of eggnog and cosy up under a blanket and get your wits scared out with these Christmas nasties. They're almost as scary as January's Visa bills! We have 1 week to go and it's Ho Ho Ho time-see you all next week on our special publishing day of Tuesday December 24th.
