NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

- CORRECTION -
60th Anniversary
N. S. Garden Club
Celebration Tea

In previous issues, we referred to the upcoming North Sydney Garden Club at the "EX" as a "FLOWER SHOW" and that is incorrect. They are celebrating their 60th anniversary and their annual Flower Show will be later in the year.

We apologize for our enthusiasm to rush the flowers.

The North Sydney Garden Club invites you to celebrate their 60th Anniversary Tea to be held on Saturday, April 14, from 2:00 - 4:00 pm at the CB Exhibition, Regent Street in North Sydney.

Lots of pictures will be on display and light refreshments will be served and there is no admission. K-LEE RADIO will broadcast from the show, join us for fun and trivia prizes.

BIRTHDAY WISHES

I would like to wish Happy Birthday to Bill McKee on April 14th.

Hope your day is as wonderful as you are. Lots of love from all your family and friends.

MUSIC NOTES
BY PAUL POWER
Kim Wilde – “Here Come The Aliens” - In 1981 a 21-year-old woman from England released a song that blew the doors off the whole new wave and pop music charts-that song was “Kids in America” and the singer was Kim Wilde. That same year saw the release of the movie “Raiders of the Lost Ark,” the first DeLorean car, MTV went on the air, Ronald Reagan becoming the 40th president of the United States and the royal wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana took place-it was a big year. After that Kim went on to release 14 albums, scoring a number of follow-up hits in different countries.

This album came to my attention out of the blue, good thing, because I had no expectations-and I was very surprised at what I heard. It starts off with the song “1969”, about our ‘friends in outer space’-and the romping uptempo number is basically a perfect pop song. The 1980’s retro vibe really shows through on “Pop Don’t Stop”, as an audio homage to “Video Killed The Radio Star” carries the listener directly to the era of wide lapels and padded shoulders. “Kandy Krush” sounds so much like a Billy Idol meets Blondie song that you’ll be checking the liner notes, and “Birthday” is so much like a Go-Go’s meets The Bangles song that’ll it’ll impress both camps; yet both of these songs still have enough originality to keep them interesting and enjoyable. Things do get deadly serious on the amazing track “Cyber Nation War”-a number about drone warfare, cyber terrorism and the dark sides of modern technology. It’s a great song.

The album closes off with the song “Rosetta” and this number also shows us a more serious side to Kim Wilde with a track that mimics Roxette-but in an original way. Kim Wilde is 57 years old, and if anyone thinks she’s too old to sing pop songs they are just being stupid. The equivalent of saying meaningful music can’t be made by anyone under 30, and we know that’s BS, so hats off to Kim for recording a great album highlighting her ability to sing songs that go from new wave to pop, rock, dance, R&B and slow jams, all in top form.

Now for the weirdness-the great album cover and name are a hint; Kim said the idea for this album came to her after having an encounter with a UFO in 2009 when she was in her garden, noticing something odd in the sky-a huge bright light behind a cloud. She said she walked to track the source of the light and noticed that it was swiftly moving back and forth. I wasn’t there so I can’t comment on that, but if it inspires an album this great there are a lot of artists who should look to the skies for this kind of inspiration.

TAX TIPS 2017

We've had some questions lately that we'd like to review

When is my return due? - Your income tax return is due on April 30 each year, or June 15 if you or your spouse ran a business in the year, although if you owe tax your payment is due on or before April 30. If you owe taxes, make sure your return is transmitted or postmarked before midnight on the due date to avoid late-filing penalties and interest.

What happens if I file late? - If you file your return late and you owe taxes, you'll automatically be charged a penalty of 5 percent of your balance owing. On top of that, you'll face a penalty of 1 percent of the balance owing for each month your return remains outstanding, to a maximum of 12 months. And don't forget the interest: the CRA charges interest, compounded daily, on outstanding balances and penalties.

Can I change my return if I find a mistake? - Yes, you can file a T1 Adjustment using form T1-ADJ, "T1 Adjustment Request," to amend your return for any mistakes you may find after the fact. You can also request changes online under the "My Account" online. Most taxpayers are encouraged to speak to their tax professional to file an adjustment to ensure that all required lines are changed in the adjustment request.

Can I deduct interest I pay? - Personal loans or mortgage interest are not tax deductible, other types of loans are tax deductible. Interest paid on student loans and business loans can be deducted on your annual taxes, effectively reducing your taxable income for the year. However, certain criteria must be met to qualify for the above deductions.

Can my spouse and I share medical deductions? - Yes, you are encouraged to combine all of your family medical expenses and claim under the taxpayer with the lower income in most cases. Your professional tax preparer can advise if your situation warrants a different claim strategy.

What medical deductions can I deduct? - You can deduct any qualified amounts for prescriptions, pharmacare, medical premiums paid by you, dental costs, vision costs as well as hundreds of other items. If you're not sure about a medical cost, you are encouraged to bring in the receipt to your tax professional to determine your eligibility.
